To whom it may concern:

I have had the pleasure of having Kaitlyn Martinez as a student aid at Robert Morgan High School for two years. Kaitlyn has been a model worker from the moment I met her. She takes initiative, is diligent in her assignments, and is a very respectful and helpful young lady.

Being a student aid for a prolific music program could be a challenge for non-musicians, but she was always willing to learn and worked hard to get the job done. She is always eager to help with anything for the greater need of the program and was successful in her efforts.

Kaitlyn has high expectations for herself and expects the same of those around her. Her good nature and encouragement make others want to work with her. She helps others in any way she can and works well in a team. She has also completed many projects alone successfully. She is not only dependable, but a joy to work with and be around.

Her demeanor and attention to detail make for an excellent candidate for your company. I highly endorse this young woman and support her in all her future endeavors.

Yours respectfully,
